D. Project Details

D1. Justification and Core Problem Statement

Dozens of mechanisms and tools have been developed to manage the social accountability challenges of public financial management like budget preparation, disseminatin and analysis, public expenditure and public procurement monitoring. The government of Nepal has also made laws and institutional mechanism for the development of public financial management and effective streamline of public resource. Although having institutional, legal and citizen structures, it is less realized the integrity yet in their working procedures and existing practices. The challenges regarding public finance management in the proposed VDCs are found that there is lack of awareness about it as a result we can still see discriminatory behavior of service delivery agencies towards the poor, vulnerable and socially excluded people in respective VDCs. The process of providing services is unnecessarily complicated in which Dalit, women, Janajati and land poor of Masuriya and Chaumala VDCs are facing difficulties to get the proper services. As per the focus group discussion with target groups (Dalit, women, Janajati and land poor) conducted in those 2 VDCs by RDN Nepal, the problems related to public services pointed out as to most of the citizens from backward community do not know about participatory planning and joint budget preparation and about how communities can make procurements with public money as well as do not understand the importance of conflicts of interest and integrity pacts. The problems found related to gender and pro-poor budget as to Dalits, women, Janajatis and land poor do not have the proper idea on the proper utilization of the budget. As for example most of the proposals under the inclusive budgets are passed for community infrastructure like gravelling the roads, making community building, temples etc. We have also seen that citizens are not properly informed about the times, the fees, the processes and their responsibilities when receiving services. Openness and transparency are not maintained in the distribution of resources and citizens are unable to hold service providers accountable. Information is not clearly provided about the services that citizens are entitled to from government offices and the budgets of public bodies are not easily known. The most marginalized citizens in the respective VDCs do not know how to monitor or complain about public services, or about revenue and expenditure as irregulars' come into existence. There is also not the practice tender and quotation as well as bidding while the equipment used for community projects are procured.

Through the focus groups discussion with target beneficiaries and major stakeholders (VDC, political parties, representatives of civil society organizations, user groups etc.) in Chaumala and Masuriya VDCs of Kailali, the problems on public finance management were identified as the service delivery agencies in proposed 2 VDC do not have proper monitoring mechanism to implement their planning. Although the government has plan and policy to allocate certain budget in the favor of Dalit, women and land poor but they are not incorporating GESI mainstreaming issues in during planning, implementing, monitoring and reporting system. The challenges were appeared due to the political transition and there is not any elected body of government in the local level. A study made by RDN Nepal (Baseline survey by RDN Nepal and ESP/RDIF in 27 VDCs of far west including Masuriya and Chaumala VDCs of Kailali) concludes that 71% of citizens are agreed the government development programs are associated with corruption and 56% indicates that political parties are trying to influence budget decisions in district and grass root level. As per the study 13% of Dalit representation in political parties in district level and 7% in grass root level respectively but lack of representation in decision making process. From the status, people from backward community are deprived from information basically on natural resources management and public sphere. The local government does not have technical capacity to manage the public financial management and mainstream the GESI issues in its plan, policy, program and budgeting as well as monitoring sysem.

To mitigate the challenges of social accountability of public finance management, RDN Nepal is going to adopt the 4 SA tools (Budget literacy, gender and pro-poor budget analysis, public expenditure tracking survey and public procurement monitoring) in 2 VDCs of Kailali through the critical engagement with stakeholders. The existing practice in those VDCs to promote the social accountability managing the public finance is seemed that LGCDP has formed CAC and WCF and strengthening those networks through regular meetings, interaction with target beneficiaries. Once RDN Nepal organized district assembly of social mobilizers belong to LGCDP and supported for making their action plan and further discussed on the sustainability of the transformative social campaigners. Total 58 SMs from 42 VDCs and 2 municipalities of Kailali district participated in that program. On the other hands, most of the target benefeciaries in this project activities are planned from CAC and WCF. In this regards, our previous coordination with DDC will be crucial for the effeciency and effectiveness for the implementation of the project.

Due to the expectation of critical engagement with state institutions (VDC and other likeminded services delivery agencies) and getting ownership for the further sustainability of the initiative, RDN's proposed approach is different from the ongoing initiatives and do not a duplication since it has been organizing trainings jointly with various organizations on good governance and accountability of the local bodies. It is therefore innovative that the 4 SA tools are going to be used to establish the system and change the behavior of state mechanism contribute promoting social and political status of poor, vulnerable and most marginalized groups (Dalit, Janajati, women etc.) in the grass root level through structural transformation of society. This approach is creative also because of searching the future potential for involvement where VDC council of Chaumala and Masuriya may institutionalize the best practices of the intervention beyond the project period if we can ensure the collaboration with CAC, and WCF as well as its social mobilizers.

D2. Description of the SA tools prescribed to be tested

The description of 4 SA tools, their application and involvement of target beneficiaries has been mentioned accordingly as below:

Budget Literacy: Budget literacy refers to the awareness and sensitization of target groups towards the value of education about civic matters, how the state works, how to build the democratic state and teach citizens about their roles and responsibilities. The meaning of civic education is education of the citizens. In a democracy, it is generally accepted that citizens are actively involved in every aspect of their own governing. Citizens should not only passively follow the path shown by others, but should also become self-conscious and active in their understanding of the role of the citizen. It also contains citizens' understanding of the operation of national and local political and administrative systems and how they function and citizens' capacity and skill to utilize the political and administrative systems. It is used to aware and educates the people through popular education. We will ensure the involvement of target beneficiaries through budget literacy orientation, production and dissemination of informative reading materials on local budget and production and dissemination of radio program on local budget as well as initial consultation with target groups at VDC level.

Gender and pro-poor budget Analysis: Analysis of gender and pro-poor budget means to address the issues of women, Dalit, Janajati and land poor as well as other most marginalized groups in community through the allocated budget of service delivery agencies mainly of VDC, DDC and other likeminded institutions. It contains as specific budget that directly supports to target beneficiaries, next GESI responsive budget that contributes indirectly addressing the current emerging issues of target groups and last one neutral budget that does not speak on the rights of poor, vulnerable and socially excluded people. It consists of inclusion audit. The citizens are benefitted by conducting orientation on Budget analysis and participatory budget analysis. From the intervention, VDC as well as other service delivery agencies will also increase their budget allocation by 10% than the last fiscal year in the favor of Dalit, women, Janajati and land poor in the grass root level.

Public Expenditure Tracking (PET): This deal with learning of the size of the budget in the programs of government and non-government bodies, how the budget is spent, what has been achieved with the Public Expenditure Tracking is a method through which people try to find out how much budget is allocated to the activities implemented by the local bodies (VDCs, DDCs and Municipalities) and other government and non-government organizations; how much of this budget is spent or is being spent, and what outputs were obtained through the money that has been spent. Through the use of this tool, people will find out whether any of the plans, programs and resources has indeed reached their targets, whether the money was spent for the already approved purpose and, if not, what ways can be found to spend the budget as per the approved purposes. This method will help to identify the problems, weaknesses, irregularities and leakages seen in the management of public budget expenditures and address them accordingly. The citizens will be involved through orientation to volunteers on PETS and developing PETS questionnaire, pre-test, revision and printing etc.

Public Procurement Monitoring: The income government collects through revenue and tax determines what kind of programs, projects and services it can conduct. Local bodies (VDCs, DDCs and Municipalities) collect tax, tolls and other kinds of income using their authority and determine the local programs and service they can provide based on the amount of revenue they have collected. It contains bidding process and quotations. It is done mainly to ensure the transparency and accountability during the public procurement process. Under this tool, target beneficiaries will increase their involvement through mobilization of citizen monitoring committee.

Rastriya Dalit Network (RDN) Nepal will use those 4 SA tools for empowering and mobilizing the target beneficiaries to claim and establish their rights on public financial management. Through the use of budget literacy, most of the target groups will be sensitized on rights to information. From the process, they will know the steps of integrated planning in the local level and search their space accordingly. Dalit, women, Janajati and land poor of two VDCs will claim for their identity, representation and public security under the financial management. The problems of target groups facing difficulties to get the proper services from VDC will be mitigated through creating wider level of awareness and campaign. They will own and accept the decision of VDC council. As a result, the local government will protect, promote and respect their human rights issues by managing the public finance. In nutshell, they will feel as dignified life. By using the gender and pro-poor budget analysis, target group of the project will have increased awareness about the budget process of local government in particular VDC budget and they will be able to analyze the VDC budget from the lens of gender and pro-poor. The budget of the VDC will be allocated as per plan and policy of local government and utilized properly. The next SA tool PETS will be used through collecting, examining, analyzing and disseminating the data and expenditure of existing projects run by VDCs. The main objective of adopting this tool will be to ensure the Value for Money (VFM)- Effectiveness, Equity, Efficiency and Economy. By the help of procurement monitoring, it will be easy to keep the transparency. It will be useful to avoid the irregularities and conflict of interest. Basically RDN Nepal will adopt this tool through the mobilization of citizen monitoring committee in proposed 2 VDCs (Masuriya and Chaumala) of Kailali.

D8. Sustainability

RDN Nepal is a Dalit activist based organization. It has been working with staffs both at paid (while there is/was project) and non-paid volunteer basis with dedication and commitment. On the other hand, RDN has district chapters in all districts proposed for this project, which would be more crucial to continue advocacy initiatives and movements on the issues identified and prioritized during and/or after the project period. Similarly, different wings or departments within RDN will also play vital role for continuing advocacy on those issues until and unless it will be addressed. As this project aims to address the issues of Dalit communities and seek way forwards for their dignified life; RDN will definitely provide its maximum attention and efforts for the very success of this project not only during project period but beyond also. It is experienced that advocacy initiatives and breakthrough activities may create short term confrontation between Dalit communities and the so called elites in the communities. Similarly, counseling and critical engagement with local administration, political parties and key social elite actors could play crucial role to create win-win environment in the conflict situation.

After the completion of the project, the practice of 4 SA tool would be maintained through mobilization and strengthening of people organizations like CAC and WCF as these networks are formed permanently for sustainable development from the government initiatives for public advocacy. The capacity of these networks as well as VDC and other service delivery agencies in the VDC level will be strengthened to make the sustainability plan for the project initiatives and best practices. At the ending level of the project, the phase out strategy will be developed in which the interlink age of the target groups will be made for the future potential for involvement. RDN Nepal had already formed Haliya rights forum and inter party networks in these 2 proposed working VDCs and also prepared the sustainability plan. The sustainability plan will followed up. RDN Nepal will also take the initiation to form and also strengthen the Social Accountability Networks in those two VDCs. The VDC councils in these VDCs will allocate the budget to institutionalize the best practices of the project in which CAC, WCF, Haliya rights forum and inter party network will be encouraged for that task.

D9. Gender Equality and Social Inclusion (GESI) approach

Gender Equality and Social Inclusion (GESI) strategy is a process of mainstreaming the voice of most marginalized and deprived people in the community level basically in policy, institution, planning and budgeting as well as Monitoring & Evaluation (M &E) and reporting mechanism. In this regards, RDN Nepal is a resource organization of GESI mainstreaming it is supporting in formulating the GESI friendly policy and programs of different organizations. On the other hands, RDN Nepal has gender equality and social inclusion policy. RDN Nepal will also maintain the caste and gender balance while implementing project level activities. RDN has inclusive board members where the representative of Dalit women, Madesi Dalit, Karnali Dalits has been insured. RDN Nepal will make the effective (GESI friendly) monitoring and reporting respectively.

Gender Equality and Social Inclusion (GESI) approach will be mainstreamed in different 4 SA tools (budget demystification and awareness raising, gender and pro-poor budget analysis, public procurement monitoring and public expenditure tracking survey) gradually ensuring the proportional representation of Dalit, women, Janajati and land poor during the implementation of project activities under respective tools. At least 13% Dalit, 50% women and 40% land poor as well as 30% Janajati's participation will be ensured in all project activities as the proposed coverage VDCs have different social diversity. Before selecting the volunteers in the VDCs for data collection, the criteria of GESI approach will be adopted.

D10. Knowledge sharing

RDN believes that coordination with likeminded organizations and programs is most crucial for the effectiveness and better result of any program. On the other hand, it is obvious that there are other projects, political parties, CSOs GOs and I/NGOs working tangibly and intangibly for the betterment of Dalit communities. For the effective knowledge sharing process, RDN Nepal has developed communication policy and department. Project team will organize review and reflection meeting with target beneficiaries and stakeholders.

Besides these, RDN Nepal will also share the best practices of the project intervention to the other 12 CSOs trained by NCDI, Pro Public, members of the SAc network formed by NASC, SAP Nepal and the SAc practitioners of small and or large sub-grantees under PRAN from Kailali district in the sub-grant implementation process. it will also cooperative with Human Rights Alliance, National Land Rights Forum, National Land Rights Concern Group, APACHA, Civil Society for Peace & Democracy, Human Rights Protection Forum, National Coalition against Racial Discrimination (NCARD), Collective Campaign for Peace (COCAP), Jana Utthan Pratishan (JUP Nepal), Dalit NGO Federation (DNF) and NGO Federation in which RDN Nepal has membership and professional affiliation. By sharing the knowledge with these networks and alliance ship, we will be able to institutionalize the major achievements and learning of the project. We further ensure the participation of target beneficiaries (13% Dalit, 50% women, 40% Janajati and 20% land poor) in project planning, project implementation, monitoring process.

E. Management Arrangement and Team

For the overall management of "Improving Public Financial Management of Chaumala and Masuriya VDCs of Kailali district through Citizens' Engagement", RDN will form a management and/or advisory committee to review and guide project team members. Besides, it will have a team of professionals for overall implementation of the project comprising of SA Practitioner (Project coordinator), finance officer (part time) and volunteers. The Project coordinator will be primarily responsible for overall management of program activities and personnel management. On the other hand, RDN will strengthen and mobilize some of its EC members as well as district and VDC level activists to facilitate the planned activities of the project to their expertise for short term work.

F. Monitoring and Supervision

Regular monitoring and supervision is essential and equally important for the effectiveness as well as efficiency of the interventions. As aforesaid, RDN Nepal will be responsible for accomplishing all the activities proposed in the proposal in the 2 VDCs of Kailali district.
